

BNT 941, New Testament Studies: Luke-Acts Addendum

Summer 2020

Martin Mittelstadt

Friends,

As we forge ahead during the present crisis, I want to reiterate my commitment not only to make this course happen, but to provide you with a productive learning context. After consultation with Paul Lewis, I offer the following addendum to the syllabus:

1. We will convene for a virtual classroom from 8 am - 12 pm CT for the week of June 8-12.
 - I will provide PPTs and/or handouts of daily material a day or two ahead of each class. You will be able to peruse my content, I will summarize, and then use our virtual classroom for lively discussion.
 - We will also work through the pre-course assignments. Please work hard to have these completed for June 8.
 - I will determine daily schedule based upon your submitted work.
2. Aug 14 will become the new deadline for your final essay and reception history project.
3. On Aug 22, we will convene for a final zoom meeting from 8 am - 2 pm CT.
 - During the week ahead this virtual gathering, I will grade your final essay and project.
 - You will read the work submitted by your fellow classmates.
 - Class time will be devoted to presentations and conversations over your work. Each of you will present a short summary and I will guide us through Q & A.
 - I will conclude class with final reflections on our shared experience.

Though many of us crave face to face education, I am confident that we will be a meaningful and memorable experience.

Will you join me?

Sincerely,

Marty Mittelstadt

mittelstadt@evangel.edu