As followers of Jesus Christ, God has commissioned us to share the good news with all people—including the 1.7 billion Muslims who live all across the globe! If you live in a major city, such as Chicago, New York, Los Angeles, Seattle, or Houston, or a global city like Cairo, Egypt, Jakarta, Indonesia, or London, you will encounter Muslims. The challenge is that many Christians feel anger, fear, or indifference toward Muslim people, which inhibits their ability to reach them with the love of Jesus.

The Summer Institute for Islamic Studies provides a two-week training designed to demystify Islam and provide you with the practical knowledge and theological understanding necessary to effectively engage Muslims. The professors have all served as missionaries in Muslim-majority nations and have practical insights into ministry to Muslims. As experts in the field, they bring years of practical ministry with Muslims into the classroom.

If you desire to reach out to Muslims in your current context or if God has called you to missions in a Muslim context, the Summer Institute for Islamic Studies will provide the tools you need. We pray that God will use this training to prepare you to minister to Muslims—because every Muslim needs to know the truth about Jesus!
