Course Requirements:

The course works through the second half of the grammar in the text book. There are take-home quizzes weekly and a two-thirds term take-home translation exam covering all of Hebrew I, using the lexicon and textbook.

For the final four weeks of the semester, there will be four take-home guided research assignments, increasing in depth of analysis expected in Hebrew syntax and word studies and in weight in grading. This involves translation of selected passages from different genres of the Old Testament, with use of the major advanced Hebrew tools. The emphasis will be on the difference that knowing Hebrew can make in interpreting a passage.

Details on the requirements and a selected bibliography will be a part of the syllabus, which will be available a week prior to class through course commons.
